SMART Gateway City USA Launches

ATLANTA, January 27, 2020 — Today, Chamber of Eco Commerce with SMART Community Exchange launched SMART Gateway City USA program, a unique executive-level multiplatform focused on U.S. market entry for foreign companies seeking to expand operations in the U.S. market.

Drawing on SMART Community Exchange global network of SMART cities and communities, the SMART Gateway City USA program connects international business executives and investors with SMART city and community officials, economic developers, and business executives in SMART Gateway City locations across the USA.

“The SMART Gateway City program is dedicated to sustainable SMART economic development. We want this multiplatform program to connect business executives and investors with SMART city and community executives in the U.S. and around the globe,” said Minna LeVine, CEO, Chamber of Eco Commerce.

The SMART Gateway City USA program brings clarity to U.S. market entry and expansion issues for foreign businesses. The program provides participants access to critical information, soft landing training programs from industry experts, resources and high-level contacts, on demand, eliminating the need for travel and attending live events during the early stages of U.S. market entry process. Businesses can start the process in their region,” said Tana Torrano, CEO, Market Vision Consulting, LLC.

The SMART Gateway City USA program partners represent government and private sector organizations and enterprises, committed to supporting the SMART Gateway City program in their region. In an effort to address critical issues and mitigate risk related to U.S. market entry for foreign investors, the program includes executive-level training and access to high-level local contacts.
